

SEA HORSES & OTHER STORIES COMPETITION

What is the best bar you have ever been in?

What made it so good?

Was it the atmosphere, what you saw, what you heard?

What made it stay in your mind?

Tell me, and the best photograph, the best story or the best funny observation about the best bar you have ever been in, in your life wins you a signed David Morris print of your choice.

I've taken photographs in some of the most interesting bars in Europe and have always found a story worth photographing.

The smokey bar on the right is in Amsterdam. A very attractive lady of a certain age entered, seated herself next to a man who lit up when he saw her.

And then she lit up - a huge cigar Churchill would have been proud of and proceeded to blow great clouds of smoke in the direction of the ceiling.

She created all that atmosphere in a matter of minutes. Life shortening it may have been, but I couldn't take my eyes off her. I think there is a book in all of this hence the competition.

My work is on show here, take a look and enter the competition.

Simply email me at dmbandb@hotmail.com your best photograph, story, observation....whatever on what made the bar you visited the best bar in the world.

Closing date midnight 31 December 2017

My decision is final

*But in the event of more than one good story....
well there may be more than one print awarded.*

And I may want to use your story in a book, but we can discuss that over a pint.
